Dear Assignment of Benefit (AOB) Distributor:

MedImmune, Inc. is pleased to announce that your company has been selected to participate in the 2006/07 Synagis® Distribution Network as one of a selected group of distributors in the Assignment of Benefit distribution channel that will have access to purchase and sell Synagis (palivizumab), our flagship product for prevention of respiratory syncytial virus disease (RSV), during the 2006/07 RSV season. As you know, the Synagis Distribution Network was launched in September of 2003 in order to provide the highest level of patient services and support for patients who receive prescriptions or physician orders for Synagis. Your participation in the Network reflects your ability to provide the necessary services to support the product at a consistently high level for those patients in your marketplace.

Your company is required to handle the product in accordance with the package insert and all applicable laws and regulations, as well as provide sales data to MedImmune, either directly or through other standard reporting formats. Also, your company is required to purchase product directly from one of the Synagis Distribution Network wholesalers and, unless MedImmune receives advance written notice, prohibited from selling product to any branch, division, franchisee, subsidiary, parent or affiliate of your company. Your company's membership will be effective starting July 1, 2006 through June 30, 2007, as long as you remain a member in good standing.

Additionally, certain rebates may be available for the performance of specific services if you expect to sell 3,000 or more 100 mg equivalents of Synagis during the 2006/07 RSV season. For more information, please contact your local MedImmune sales representative.

As always, MedImmune reserves the right to change or modify the Synagis Distribution Network at any time as needs dictate.

We appreciate all of your support for MedImmune products and look forward to continuing our relationship.

Sincerely,

John Trizzino
Vice President, Trade & Distribution
